

An orbital photograph of the Intuitive Machines IM-1 lunar lander on the Moon's surface. The lander is a four-legged vehicle with a white body and gold thermal blankets. It is positioned on the dark, cratered lunar surface. The lander's legs are extended, and its descent stage is visible. The background shows the horizon of the Moon and the blackness of space.

Back to the Moon

First private moon lander touch down on lunar surface

Sirius 5th, March, 2024

1972

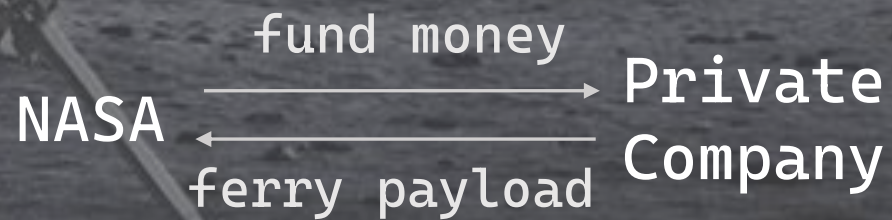

Apollo

2024

Peregrine
(failed)

Odysseus
26th, February
near the Moon
South Pole

Commercial Lunar Payload Services

facilitate Outer
Space Exploration

1972

Apollo

2024

Peregrine
(failed)

Odysseus
26th, February
near the Moon
South Pole

Chang'e 6
Extend Our BEST WISHES

High-cost Mission
Significant Risks

Land on the moon!
BUT tip to one side
Dying.....

fading sunlight
frozen temperature
[Harsh Environment]